

Distinctiveness

Shri Narsing Arts and Commerce Collge, Akot was established in the year 1998. It is distinctive in so many aspects but one distinctive quality is worth-appreciating i.e. the college is a unique college where 90% of girls students have been admitted every year. It happens due to the excessive care of girl's students and the highest priority of safety and security. Most of the girl's students are coming from the deprived and downtrodden classes. The institute has a wonderful 'Girls Common Room' which has so many facilities for girls who are undergoing the hard times. Magazines, Newspapers, Sanitary Napkins, Books and Bed are placed there where girls can get relaxed. Our institute aims at equality of women in the mainstream society. In this concern, there are lots of seminars, workshops and lectures were organized. As a result of which, girls students are getting motivated and prepare for competitive exams and also getting ready to face all the challenges of life.

There are ample amount of facilities for girls students in our campus. Home Economics is one of them which taught by Prof. Dr. Babita Hajare, (an in charge principal) who is very dedicated towards her subject and setting an impeccable example in front of girls students. Home Economics is a crucial subject which teaches the girls students about the minutest details of how to manage home. It is really very useful for them even after their marriage. It has been working very devotionally for the educational, social and economic development of students for last 25 years. The college is located in the heart of the town, where most of the students are from rural farmers and labor classes. Mostly girls students are doing up down from the nearby villages, therefore, it becomes very congenial for them to get bus from nearby bus depot which is at walking distance. We are trying to bring them into main stream of education. We think our college should not only be a centre of formal education but it should also inculcate human values and ethics among people of this region. A number of innovative activities have been undertaken by the college clearly exhibit that the institutional distinctiveness is "Our institute is a Unique institute for Girls students". It is a unique granted college among 26 villages. Our institute is a kind of boon for the parents where they can educate their girls with great comfort and at minimum expenditure and with a full trust of safety and security.

Parents in rural areas are not very conservative on sending girls for education but the enrollment of girls in our colleges is more than boys every year. It happens due to the proper guidance of our staff members to their parents. The effort of our college is to develop self-confidence among girl's students. We provide thorough guidance regarding medicine and diet. Along with this, self-defense training for girls is provided in the college by department of physical education. For the safety of girls, the college also has CCTV cameras installed. Along with the academic development of students, various sports are also given priority in the college for physical development. Students need specialized guidance in various subjects to survive in today's competitive era. Guidance is provided by college teachers as well as expert guides for competitive exams. It definitely benefits all students. To remove fear of examination the students are guided about the examination and if there are any problems regarding the result, they are resolved by the Examination Grievance Redressal Committee and the students are guided in this regard from time to time. The college tries to create social awareness and a sense of responsibility among the students. At the same time, the college tries to spread the thoughts of different saints and social reformers in the society through various programs on cleanliness, environmental protection, gender equality etc.

If there is any problem for any girl student, the institute has established Women Harassment Cell. It is very transparent and time-bound where girls can freely lodge their complaint. Due to this cell, girl's students feel much secured in the campus. The institute has organized various Health checkup camps as well as rallies for the awareness of girl's students. However, our institute is a decent and secured place for girl's education. There is one more distinctive quality is that the institute started "Spardha Pariksha Pustak Pedhi" in the year 2018, where Prof. Dr. Anil Babhulkar and other philanthropic people donated more than 80000 Rs. books to the library. The students got highly benefitted by this practice from Competitive Exams point of view. However, the institute is having so many distinctive qualities but the most striking distinctiveness is the active role of college in the overall development of girl's students. Therefore, it can be rightly said that the institute is an institute for the development of Girls Students.

9. A Report of

A Seminar on "Health and Mental Issues of Women"

6th Sept 2022

Shri Narsing Arts and Commerce College, Akot, with the initiatives of college IQAC, one day seminar on "Health and Mental Issues of Women" was held in the college. Dr Umesh Dhumale took special efforts to organize this program to create motivation so that they may act, behave without gender bias.

To take part in this program, many students both girls and boys prepared the topic some students presented, the topic on time sharing their own experiences of inequality in the society. It was commonly found that the girls in the society as well as in the home are provided with less opportunity to grow in the field of business and education. They are trained to manage home affairs including cleaning and washing. They miss the opportunity due limited money in the house to be spent for their brother's education.

The chief guest of this program, Dr. Rakhi Lahane stated that if India was to develop in all directions covering every field, it cannot be done ridding on inequality. Actually, since long time in history, it was found that only those societies could develop which made equality as a mandatory principle to be followed as rule. Any break or deviation to this principle led the society to set its own downfall.

Therefore, Women should be prepared to confront all the mental and physical problems. Then and then only equality should be brought. The prominent attendance to this program was shared by Prof. Awandakar, Dr Umesh Dhumale, Dr Anil Babhulkar and motto of the students and all members of non-teaching staff of the college. This program was conducted by Dr Vilas Pundkar, an IQAC Coordinator who expressed vote of thanks.
